Secretary Merrill to Send Staff to Monitor Montgomery Municipal Election

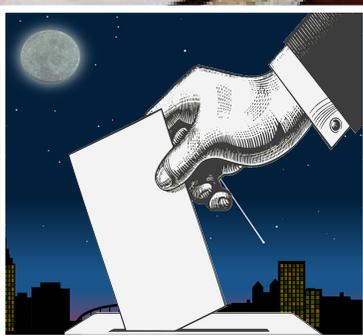

Secretary Merrill answers additional questions from the press regarding the deployment of election observers

On September 5, 2019, Secretary Merrill held a press conference in the SOS Executive Division to discuss his plan to send 10 staffers to monitor the Montgomery mayoral runoff election between Steven Reed and David Woods, which will take place on October 8th. After receiving a number of complaints and voter fraud reports regarding the primary election on August 27th, five groups of two staffers will be responsible for observing the polls from 7:00 am to 7:00 pm that night.

“It is important to preserve the integrity and credibility of the elections,” Secretary Merrill stated. “We take each and every report of voter fraud very seriously and will do everything necessary to ensure that our elections remain safe and secure.”

The voter fraud complaints surrounding the primary election are still under investigation, and no charges have been made at this time.

Secretary Merrill Donates Bicentennial Books to 4th Grade Classes

On August 28, 2019, the School Superintendents of Alabama met in Montgomery to meet with State Superintendent of Education, Dr. Eric Mackey, and discuss the upcoming year. Secretary of State John H. Merrill delivered almost 650 copies of the history book Alabama: The Bicentennial to 142 School Superintendents from across the state.

To celebrate Alabama's 200th anniversary of statehood, Secretary Merrill and co-author Tom Ward released Alabama: The Bicentennial to recognize more than 400 notable Alabamians who have made significant contributions to our state.

Every school in Alabama that has fourth-grade students received a complimentary copy for their school media center. Copies of the history book have been delivered to private, parochial, and independent schools as well.

"As the former Director of Community Relations and Community Education for the Tuscaloosa County Board of Education for 16 years, education remains a top priority to me. Through this project, I hope to assist in the education of students across the State of Alabama by providing them with the opportunity to learn more about our state," stated Secretary Merrill.

Although he authored the book, Secretary Merrill has not and will not receive compensation of any form. Alabama: The Bicentennial is available for purchase at the Alabama Department of Archives & History or online at alabama-200book.com.

Seventy-five percent of the proceeds will go directly to Friends of the Alabama Archives, a non-profit auxiliary to the Alabama Department of Archives & History, where a scholarship fund has been created. This scholarship will provide opportunities for under-privileged students to join their classmates on field trips when those students lack the financial resources needed to make the trip to tour Alabama's Capitol.

For more information on how to apply for the scholarship, contact Georgia Ann Hudson from the Alabama Department of Archives & History at georgiaann.hudson@archives.alabama.gov.

Secretary Merrill thanks ALFA, Alabama Power Company, and Steve Murray, the Director of Alabama Archives & History, for their help and generosity in making this project possible.

Want to purchase a copy of Alabama: The Bicentennial? Call the Alabama Department of Archives and History at 334-242-4435.

Secretary Merrill Attends the NASS 2019 Summer Conference

From June 30th through July 3rd, Secretary Merrill and staff traveled to Santa Fe, New Mexico to take part in the National Association of Secretaries of State (NASS) 2019 Summer conference.

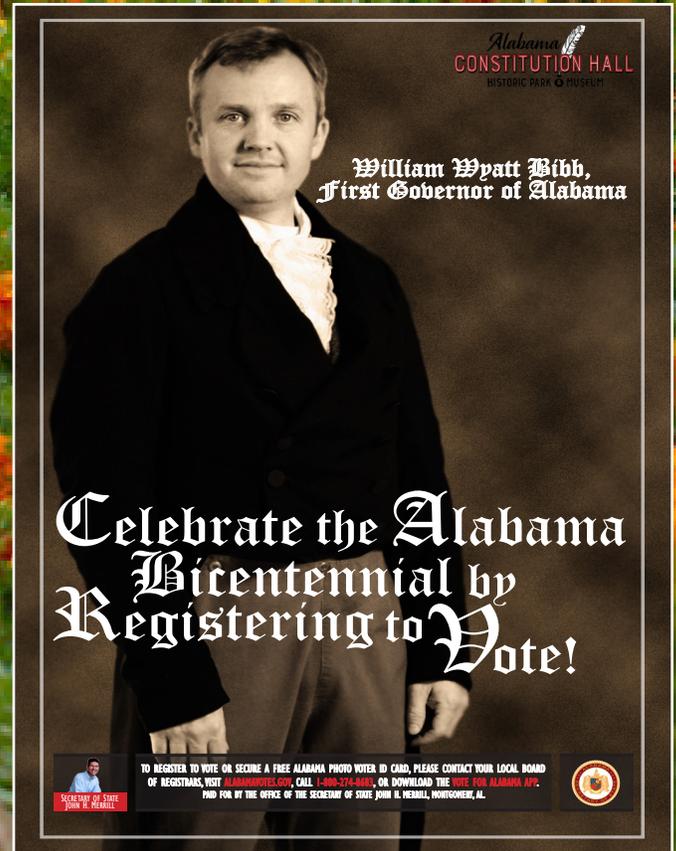

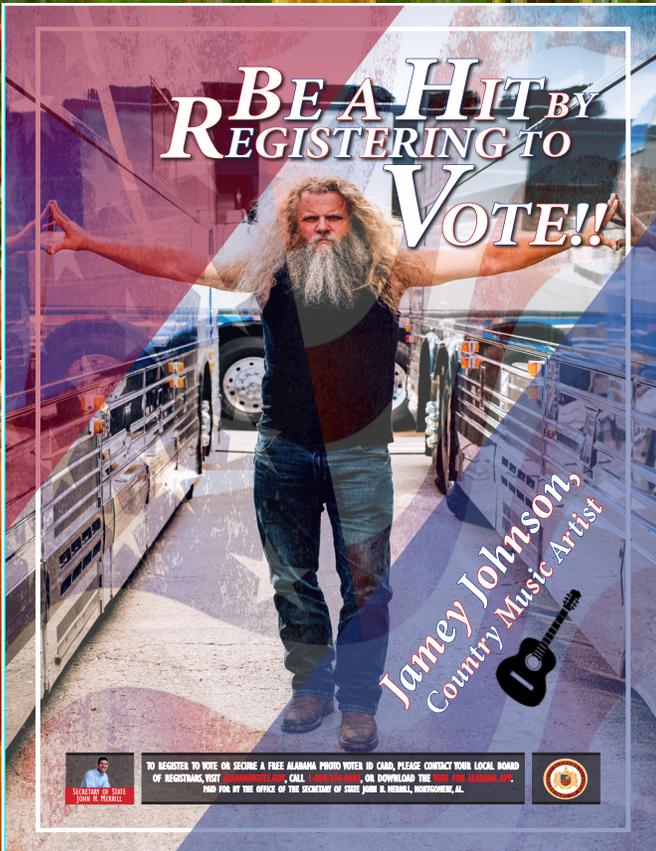

The conference began with a closed session for Secretaries of State to exchange opinions and ideas with each other on important issues in their respective states. This session was then followed by an Elections Committee meeting to discuss several resolutions and the counting of the popular vote within Presidential Elections, as well as an Election Integrity and Election Security meeting to discuss cyber security. After attending a luncheon with a detailed presentation on the census and the necessary steps to take to ensure each individual is counted for representation purposes, Secretary Merrill attended a Civil Discourse Workshop led by Ohio Secretary of State Frank LaRose and Michigan Secretary of State Jocelyn Benson. NASS even held a Cyber-security Committee to discuss the new Resources Guide and review the Laws of Legislation, student scholarships and upgrades, and help for state and local governments.

“I always enjoy interacting with fellow Secretaries of State, as we learn and discuss new methods to better serve our people,” Secretary Merrill stated. “Preserving the security and integrity of our elections is of the utmost importance, and NASS always does a great job in ensuring that we leave every conference with new resources and more strategies to help our citizens and protect our data from cyber-security threats.”

During the conference, Secretary Merrill was interviewed by Steve Crocker of WBRC Fox 6 News to discuss the briefing received from the Department of Homeland Security officials at NASS concerning elections and cyber security.

SOS Office Releases New Voter Registration Posters

Each year, the Alabama Secretary of State's Office creates and distributes voter registration posters to the Board of Registrars offices, students, and Alabamians across the state to support and promote voter registration and the option to obtain a free, photo voter identification card. This year, Secretary Merrill asked country music artist Jamey Johnson and an Alabama Constitution Hall actor portraying Governor William Wyatt Bibb to be the faces of this year's promotional efforts.

"It's extremely important that we let Alabamians know about the options available to them regarding registering to vote and obtaining a free photo voter ID card," Secretary Merrill stated. "One of our most precious rights as citizens is our ability to vote, and we want to ensure that every eligible citizen has the opportunity to register. We also want to ensure that those who don't have a valid form of identification to present at the polls has a photo voter ID card, which we create free of charge."

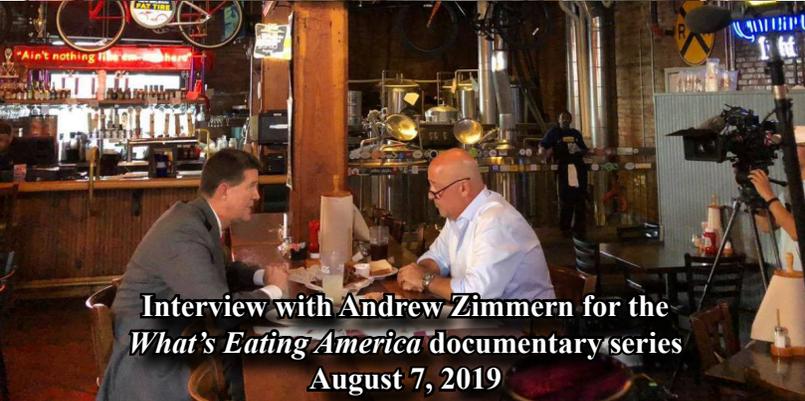

Jamey Johnson and "Governor Bibb" have also agreed to appear in television advertisements to promote the cause, which can be seen during commercial breaks on local stations.

For more information on voter registration and how to obtain a free photo voter ID card, call the Secretary of State's Elections Division at 334-242-7210.
